Pressure on the members of the syndicate of workers

Dear Colleagues

It is my pleasure and my privilege to send to you our solidarity. Based on the ILO-Convention of 87 and 98 it is international right to be member of a free union and to make collective bargaining for the conditions of work and the salary. Therefore the arrested union officials should be free immediately.

The work of Busdrivers and to make all the other things for bringing the urban transport in such a big city in movement on schedule and with high quality for the passengers is a hard work. The work should be payed respectable and under good conditions.

Trade Unions all over the world are facing extreme challenges at present: The economic and social situation in our countries is changing dramatically. More than ever we need to represent the interests of our members and, at the same time, act as political organisations to change society.

ver.di and ist 2,6 million members are part of the worldwide labour movement and feel strongly about it. We are proud that we are all together member of the International Transportworker Federation. That is why we are proud to send our greetings and a message of solidarity to you.

Yours fraternally
